

Wyperfeld National Park

Visitor Guide

'Dalkaiana wartaty dyadangandak'; We are glad that you have come to our Country.

This vast Mallee park is a place of endless space with three distinct landscapes each offering a new experience: Big Desert country to the west; Mallee to the east; and floodplains and shifting sand dunes to the north. Autumn, winter or spring is the best time to visit and there is plenty of country to cover for 4WD enthusiasts.

Ornithologist Arthur Mattingly describes Wyperfeld as "paradise for nature lovers". It is a place of tranquillity and inspiration for everyone.

Welcome to Country

'As I travel through mallee country I feel the Old People with me and I know I am home.' Suzie Skurrie, Wotjobaluk.

Through their rich culture the Wotjobaluk People have been intrinsically connected to Country - including the area now known as Victoria and the State's parks and reserves - for tens of thousand of years.

Parks Victoria recognises this connection and acknowledges the Traditional Owners and Aboriginal Communities of these areas.

Help us look after your parks by following these guidelines:

Please take rubbish home with you for recycling & disposal

Dogs and other pets are not permitted in the park

Light fires only in fireplaces provided. Keep fires small to reduce habitat disturbance. Gas or fuel stoves are preferred

No fires, (including gas or fuel stoves in tents, campers and caravans) may be lit on days of Total Fire Ban.

Wyperfeld National Park is in the North Western Total Fire Ban District

Keep to tracks, for your own safety and to protect soils and vegetation

Mobile phones: you may not be in network range in some park areas. To be connected to emergency services call 000.

If you are not in range dial 112 then press the 'Yes' key.

Healthy Parks Healthy People

Visiting a park can improve your health, mind, body and soul. So, with over four million hectares of parkland available to Victorians, why not escape to a park today!

Remote area access

Looking for 4WD opportunities? Call in at the park office to check routes and track conditions.

Access to the remote western park areas is via Murrayville-Nhill Road, but check with rangers for current track conditions, especially after wet weather and during high fire danger periods.

Caution: On the following tracks, vehicles must have good ground clearance, as tracks are deep sand and narrow. Smaller 4WD vehicles may have difficulty: North South Access, Milmed Rock, Chinamans Well, Gunners and North Callitris Track.

Please note: No vans or trailers.

People, plants and animals

The Wotjobaluk People regularly travelled along 'Tyakil-ba-Tyakil' (Outlet Creek) visiting lakes and swamps, as they travelled their region.

European settlers followed the same route to establish pastoral runs from the 1860s. The usually dry Outlet Creek snakes its way through the centre of the park. Lake Hindmarsh to the south fills and overflows into this creek system.

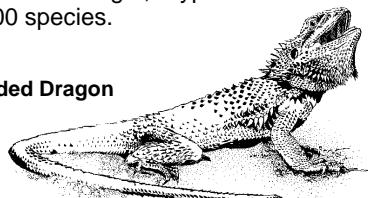

Pressure from naturalists inspired the government to reserve 3,900 hectares in 1909. Wyperfeld National Park was proclaimed in 1921 and now covers 360,000ha. The name is of German origin and was probably given by German settlers who came to the Wimmera/Mallee from South Australia.

Spring is the best time to see wildflowers, although in dry years the displays may not be as spectacular. Around 450 species of native plants occur in Wyperfeld and many are in distinct communities.

River Red Gum and Black Box woodlands cover the floodplains of Outlet Creek and its lakes, while Pine-Buloke grow on nearby dunes.

Mallee eucalypts cover most of the eastern section of the park, with rolling sand plains covered with heathland in the western section. A birdwatcher's delight, Wyperfeld has recorded over 200 species.

Bearded Dragon

Exploring the Mallee region

The Victorian Mallee parks cover over one million hectares and are extremely important for nature conservation because of their relatively undisturbed state.

Autumn, winter and spring are the best times to visit. The main picnic and camping areas are generally accessible in 2WD vehicles and opportunities abound for high clearance 4WDs.

Parknotes are available for other large and spectacular Mallee national parks that adjoin similar areas in South Australia and New South Wales.

Murray Sunset National Park

Stretching from the Murray River south to the Pink Lakes, this park is one of the world's few remaining relatively untouched semi-arid regions. It has a wealth of animal and bird life, Red and Western Grey kangaroos, vast landscapes offering breathtaking sunsets and starry nights. 4WD vehicles are best here. Lindsay Island is in the northwest corner of the park - enjoy fishing and yabbing in billabongs and creeks of the Lindsay River system.

Hattah - Kulkyn National Park and Murray - Kulkyn Park

These delightful parks feature the merging of rolling mallee dunes with the Murray River. Other features include a series of tranquil lakes (intermittent) which are protected under the Ramsar Convention, a heritage style Visitor Information Centre, nature drive and self-guided nature walk. When flooded, enjoy great opportunities for canoeing, walking, picnicking or just relaxing in the great open spaces.

Lake Albacutya Park

Adjoins the southern end of Wyperfeld National Park. When flooded the lake is a significant wetland, recognised under the RAMSAR Convention for protection of wetlands and migratory birds.

Big Desert Wilderness Park

One of the most remote and least disturbed areas in Victoria protecting 142,300 hectares of the Mallee. Vehicles are not permitted and 4WD access through the Big Desert outside the Wilderness Park is via the Murrayville Track. Bushwalkers must be experienced and self-reliant

Lake Hindmarsh Reserve

When full, this is Victoria's largest body of fresh water, fringed by River Red Gums and host to waterbirds. Enjoy boating, fishing and swimming. Access from Rainbow or Jeparit. Check for current conditions before visiting - it may be dry!

Little Desert National Park

Most famous for its Malleefowl. Features the Wimmera River at Dimboola, Mallee dunes and wonderful spring wildflowers. Opportunities for walking, 4WD and birdwatching abound. Enter the park via Western Highway at either Dimboola or Kiata (the main campground).

Get Involved - hands on!

Hanging out with friends can be good for your mind, body and soul. Restoring habitat diversity can have healthy benefits to you and your community and volunteering is a great way to get involved in your environment.
